

How important is the virgin birth?

Requirements of Messiah

- A. Messiah must be of the seed of Abraham (Genesis 22:17; Galatians 3:16)
- B. Messiah must be of the tribe of Judah (Genesis 49:10)
- C. Messiah must be of the house of David (2 Samuel 7:13)
- D. Messiah must have the legal right to the throne of David (Isaiah 9:7)
- E. He must be born of a virgin (Isaiah 7:14)
- F. He must be God (Isaiah 9:6)

Israel's King DAVID
God had promised him an everlasting royal lineage,
1 Chron 17:11-14
2 Samuel 7:4-5, 12-14.

Israel's King DAVID
God had promised him an everlasting royal lineage,
1 Chron 17:11-14
2 Samuel 7:4-5, 12-14.

That line produced an evil king,
Jehoiakim who even burned
God's written Word in his
fireplace,
Jeremiah 36:1-3, 21-23!

That line produced an evil king,
Jehoiakim who even burned
God's written Word in his
fireplace,
Jeremiah 36:1-3, 21-23!

Because of this blatant rebellion
against God's WORD,
regardless of God's promise
to David of an everlasting line,
GOD pledged Jehoiakim
would NOT have his sons
reign,
Jer. 36:29-31.

Because of this blatant rebellion
against God's WORD,
regardless of God's promise
to David of an everlasting line,
GOD pledged Jehoiakim
would NOT have his sons
reign,
Jer. 36:29-31.

When Jehoiakim's evil son, Jehoiachin (alias Coniah) tried to rule on his father's throne, God promised Coniah would never have a son sitting on David's throne,
Jeremiah 22:24-25, 30.

When Jehoiakim's evil son, Jehoiachin (alias Coniah) tried to rule on his father's throne, God promised Coniah would never have a son sitting on David's throne,
Jeremiah 22:24-25, 30.

Coniah was deposed by Babylon just three months into his reign before he could become established, and the line of Jehoiakim has since not had a king rule over the people of Israel, 2 Chronicles 36:9-10.

Coniah was deposed by Babylon just three months into his reign before he could become established, and the line of Jehoiakim has since not had a king rule over the people of Israel, 2 Chronicles 36:9-10.

This situation is compounded by the many promises of the eventual God-blessed Messianic Kingdom where Messiah of that royal line and seed would be the vehicle of world blessing, Isaiah 9:6-7.

This situation is compounded by the many promises of the eventual God-blessed Messianic Kingdom where Messiah of that royal line and seed would be the vehicle of world blessing, Isaiah 9:6-7.

In effect, the humanly-impossible tragedy arose in which the royal line of David through which the world's messianic blessings would come was CURSED by God Himself!

In effect, the humanly-impossible tragedy arose in which the royal line of David through which the world's messianic blessings would come was CURSED by God Himself!

However, by grace, God planned for Joseph to wed Mary under such strained circumstances to bypass this historical hurdle.

However, by grace, God planned for Joseph to wed Mary under such strained circumstances to bypass this historical hurdle.

God had the prophet Jeremiah predict that in place of Coniah's line that had been "cut off" from blessing, God would cause a "Branch", the Messiah, to grow up from "below" that cut, Jeremiah 23:5-6.

God had the prophet Jeremiah predict that in place of Coniah's line that had been "cut off" from blessing, God would cause a "Branch", the Messiah, to grow up from "below" that cut, Jeremiah 23:5-6.

David's royal but cursed line is traceable through the man, Joseph whom God planned to wed Mary, Matt. 1:2, 11, 16.

David's royal but cursed line is traceable through the man, Joseph whom God planned to wed Mary, Matt. 1:2, 11, 16.

Yet, Jesus could not be the physical descendant of Joseph to avoid Coniah's curse and to be God's Son, so Mary was to carry Jesus as a virgin BEFORE she and Joseph wed, Matt. 1:18.

Yet, Jesus could not be the physical descendant of Joseph to avoid Coniah's curse and to be God's Son, so Mary was to carry Jesus as a virgin BEFORE she and Joseph wed, Matt. 1:18.

Nevertheless, through his mother, Mary, a descendant of David's son, Nathan, Jesus was to come from David's line by another lineage
BRANCH: Luke 3:23, 31b.
(In the Luke 3:23 lineage account, Joseph is Heli's son by marriage)

Nevertheless, through his mother, Mary, a descendant of David's son, Nathan, Jesus was to come from David's line by another lineage
BRANCH: Luke 3:23, 31b.
(In the Luke 3:23 lineage account, Joseph is Heli's son by marriage)

Finally, for Jesus legally to be able to RULE on David's throne though not of Joseph's royal lineage, since Joseph of Coniah's royal line...

Finally, for Jesus legally to be able to RULE on David's throne though not of Joseph's royal lineage, since Joseph of Coniah's royal line...

...was to marry Jesus' mother, Mary, and since Jesus was her eldest, by adoptive right via His mother's husband, Jesus could rule on David's throne!

...was to marry Jesus' mother, Mary, and since Jesus was her eldest, by adoptive right via His mother's husband, Jesus could rule on David's throne!

Yet, for this plan to WORK,
Joseph had to obey God
quickly and marry the pregnant
Mary:

Yet, for this plan to WORK,
Joseph had to obey God
quickly and marry the pregnant
Mary:

(a) he had to wed Mary AFTER
she was pregnant to prove that
God, not Joseph, was Jesus'
Father.

(a) he had to wed Mary AFTER
she was pregnant to prove that
God, not Joseph, was Jesus'
Father.

(b) Yet, he needed to MARRY
her so Jesus could qualify to reign as Messiah by adoptive
right through himself.

(b) Yet, he needed to MARRY
her so Jesus could qualify to
reign as Messiah by adoptive
right through himself.

(c) Also, Joseph had to wed Mary SOON AFTER she became pregnant to protect Mary and thus her unborn from destructive community reprisals for what would otherwise seem to them to be a godless pregnancy!

Joseph bravely obeyed God and QUICKLY wed Mary, going so far as to withhold intimacy with her until after her delivery , Matt. 1:22ff.

Joseph bravely obeyed God and QUICKLY wed Mary, going so far as to withhold intimacy with her until after her delivery , Matt. 1:22ff.

Thus, through Nathan, Jesus came from the promised "Branch" located "below" the "stump cut mark" of cursed king Coniah.

Thus, through Nathan, Jesus came from the promised "Branch" located "below" the "stump cut mark" of cursed king Coniah.

“Blessed are all those who put their trust in Him.”

Psa 2:12